Script :

Hello, my name is Laura and it's spelled L.A.U.R.A and I'm from San Francisco, California, in the United States and I would like to talk about my family. So, in my family I have one sister, a mother, a father and a pet cat. My parents still live in San Francisco and my sister lives nearby in Berkeley. My mother's a teacher so she teaches chemistry at the university as a professor. She's very interested in chemistry and science and so is my father. My father used to be a pilot in the navy but now he works for NASA talking about airplanes, and science and technology and finally my sister who also really loves science. She is studying at the university of Berkeley, in California, a very big university, very famous and she studies microbiology and genetics so that she can become a researcher and then there is my cat. His name is Cinder, he's 10 years old. He's also from San Francisco California, and he's less interested in science and more interested in food, eating, sleeping and more sleeping. And then, there's me, I like science but not as much, I'm also interested in languages, I like French, Italian and I love travelling, so that's a little bit about my family.
